

Sean Ferguson holds BA and MA degrees in music history from The Ohio State University and a Master of Library Science degree from Kent State University. He has performed extensively on guitar and lute as a soloist, accompanist, chamber musician and orchestra member. As a librarian, he has worked at OCLC Online Computer Library Center and The Ohio State University Music/Dance Library. He is president of the Columbus Guitar Society and a member of The Early Interval, the resident ensemble of Early Music in Columbus.